Leading Car Shopping Site Recognizes Models With Best Value & Quality

Cambridge, MA, April 28, 2017 – CarGurus, a leading car shopping and research site, today announced the winners of its inaugural Best Used Car Awards. The 2017 Awards identify the best recent-year used models across seven body style categories, taking into account long-term value retention projections as well as driver satisfaction based on expert and consumer reviews.

“Most car shoppers are looking for quality and reliability in a used vehicle, as well as some assurance that the car they are buying is worth the investment,” said Matt Smith, Editor for CarGurus.com. “To arrive at our list of award winners, we combed through thousands of expert and user reviews for hundreds of vehicles, and also compared long-term value retention projections. The winning models certainly have a lot to offer drivers once they get behind the wheel.”

Methodology:

Car awards nominees were selected from late model cars originally available for sale in the United States. Vehicle generations which include the 2013 model year were considered in their entirety when evaluating nominees. Nominees were evaluated on criteria including CarGurus users' reviews, professional test drive reviews, and projected 12-year depreciation. The model with the highest overall score was determined to be the winner for each category.
